FUNERAL OF FORMER LOCAL WOMAN HELD AT MITCHELL

Mrs. Eva Hall, Aged Twenty-six, Dead Following Illness With Influenza and Tuberculosis.

The funeral of Mrs. Eva Hall, aged twenty-six years, a former resident of this city, was held this afternoon at the Christian church in Mitchell. She was a niece of Mrs. James Snow, Mrs. Joe Hulise and Mrs. John Bradbury, all of whom attended the funeral.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ball and was born in Mitchell. She lived there practically all her life with the exception of a short residence here. Her husband, Hershell Hall, was employed on a local railroad. A few years ago the family went to Colorado and last winter Mrs. Hall suffered two attacks of influenza which developed into tuberculosis. She was taken to the home of her parents in Mitchell four months ago and her condition was critical at that time. She is survived by her husband, three small children, her parents and two sisters. Burial took place at Mitchell.

FINE PROGRAM FOR LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA

Famous Kryl Band Scheduled to Appear on Fifth Day is Among Strong Features of Week.

COMEDY WILL BE PRESENTED

Numbers of Unusual Interest Are Announced for The Assembly to be Held Here July 15-21.

The program for the Seymour chautauqua which will be given July 15-21 under the auspices of the Redpath Lyceum bureau is one of the strongest that has ever been arranged for this city. The numbers which are announced today include two concerts by the famous Kryl band, a rollicking comedy, "It pays to Advertise," which will be presented by a strong cast, lectures, a debate and a long list of unusual musical numbers. Alton Packard, the well known cartoonist, is also scheduled to appear on the local program.

Heretofore the local chautauqua association has purchased an independent program but last year much of the best talent affiliated with lyceum bureaus and the Redpath bureau secured a large part of the most popular entertainers. After going over the situation thoroughly, the local association reached the opinion that it would be more satisfactory to make a contract with this bureau for the entire program this summer.

The Redpath chautauqua season is earlier than that observed here in the past and the assembly will open July 15 and will continue for seven

SAYS HIS WIFE LEFT HOME WITHOUT HIS PERMISSION

Roy Davis Tells Mayor He Expects to Divorce Fourth Spouse and May Get Another One.

Roy C. Davis was in the city court this morning to account for a sewing machine which his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Tidd, alleged that he had stolen and sold. He told Mayor Burkart that he had not stolen the sewing machine but had just moved it from one house to another for a few days and had returned it to the owner this morning.

While before the mayor this morning Davis made a complaint that his wife had gone to Sparksville with another woman to spend a few days and had not asked his permission. He told Mayor Burkart that he was going to divorce her and perhaps marry again. His present wife was formerly Miss Oma Tidd. "She is my fourth wife," Davis told the mayor. He said that he had been divorced from all of his former wives and that they were all living. "The next time I get me a woman, and I've already got one spotted, I'm going to get one with money," he said. When it was intimated that he was riding the matrimonial sea pretty often, Davis said that "my Uncle Bill Davis at St. Louis is now living with his eleventh wife and out of the whole push he has accumulated about $40,000. He is sixty years old and I am only thirty-five so I don't intend to let him beat me."

Davis further stated that he had been in church four times since he was eighteen years old and that was when he married his four wives. "I'm going to be married by a squire the next time," he said. Davis has accepted a job with a local junk dealer and expects to go to work soon. He was in the army for four months and he stated this morning that unless he was able to marry again he intended to join the marines.

TURNED OVER TO LOCAL OFFICIALS

Four Men Alleged to Have Broken Into Pennsylvania Freight Car Returned Here.

FACING THREE CHARGES

Given Preliminary Hearing This Afternoon—Engage Local Attorneys to Defend Them.

F. S. Cooke, twenty-nine, William C. Allen, twenty-three, Forest Henderson, twenty, and his brother, Fred Henderson, twenty-one, who were arrested at Columbus early on Wednesday morning, June 4, following the attempt made to steal two barrels of whiskey from a Pennsylvania freight car in this city, were returned here this afternoon by J. T. Abell, chief of police, Captain Nutter and Patrolman Whitman, of the Pennsylvania police department. The men were placed in the city jail and will be given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Burkart late this afternoon.

The men have been in the county jail at Columbus where they were held charged with carrying concealed weapons. John Johnson, of Indianapolis, one member of the band alleged to have broken into the freight car in this city, was shot and killed when he resisted arrest and fired several shots at the Columbus officers.

The four men were turned over to the local authorities after three warrants had been issued against each, one for entering a freight car to commit a felony, one for grand larceny and one for burglary. The judge of the Bartholomew circuit court, considering the fact that the charges pending against the four in this county are more serious than that of carrying concealed weapons, consented to turn the men over to the local authorities and has continued the case against the four in his court.

The four men have retained Thomas M. Honan and John M. Lewis, local attorneys, to defend them. Edward P. Elsner, attorney for the railroad company, will assist Prosecutor Lowe with the prosecution.

ONE SHIP SUNK, THREE ARE DAMAGED, IN HEAVY FOG

Steamer Yankee Goes Down Off New York Harbor—Graf Waldersee is Rammed.

By United Press

New York, June 12.—One ship was sunk and three others damaged in a big fog off New York harbor last night, according to wireless messages received here today. The steamer Yankee, a United States shipping board vessel of 2,148 tons, went down after crashing into the Italian steamer Argentina, off Fire Island. The Argentina was damaged. She saved all hands from the Yankee.

The 13,000-ton transport Graf Waldersee, a former Hamburg-American liner, was rammed by the shipping board steamer Redondo. Her wireless distress call brought the transport Leviathan and Patricia to the rescue. Wireless messages received this morning said the Patricia was towing the Graf Waldersee towards shallow waters where she would be beached. The transport was reported in a sinking condition, her engine and fire rooms being flooded.

The Redondo arrived in port unaided, though her bow was stove in. It was reported that several of the Graf Waldersee crew were injured when the ship collided with that vessel.

ALLIED TELEGRAPHERS MAY JOIN IN STRIKE

Situation Described by Western Union Official "As Practically Normal."

By United Press

Chicago, June 12.—That allied divisions of telegraphers may join the strike soon was indicated here today by a message received by S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial telegraphers' union of America, from the Eastern Brokers operators division saying the men had voted to go out on sympathetic strike.

Western brokers operators also were understood by Konenkamp to be considering a sympathetic walkout.

Konenkamp said until decision is reached by the Western Union division and the general facts are placed before him for consideration he cannot decide whether he will give his approval. Chief Operator E. T. Jones of the Western Union, said of the 166 operators reported out in the United States at noon yesterday many have returned. He described the situation as "practically normal."

Postal officials refused to make a statement, saying no figures were available.

Mrs. Mary C. Setser Dead.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary C. Setser, of Walesboro, was conducted this morning at 10:30, at Houston. Mrs. Setser had been in her usual good health and had gone to the office of Dr. W. T. Carmichael where she was suddenly stricken with apoplexy, dying a few minutes later. She was 64 years old and is survived by three sons, Avery Setser, of Newbern, Dayton Setser, Columbus and Keith Setser of Grayslake, Ills. She has a number of relatives and friends in this city.

Louise Tabor, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tabor, who reside west of the city, was painfully injured this afternoon when she fell down a stairway at the Shields high school building cutting a gash on her head. She was taken to a physician for medical attention.

KNOX RESOLUTION IS REPORTED OUT

Would Virtually Separate The League of Nations Covenant From Treaty Proper.

OPENING OF GREAT FIGHT

Action if Taken by Senate Would be Notification That U. S. Withholds Final Judgment.

By United Press
Washington, June 12.—The senate foreign relations committee today by a vote of 8 to 7 ordered a favorable report on the Knox resolution virtually to separate the league of nations covenant from the treaty proper.

The resolution, if passed by the senate, would notify the world that the United States reserves the right to delay decision on the membership of the league of nations until the senate and people have fully determined if they wish such membership.

The committee's action was almost coincident with the introduction of a resolution by Senator Sterling, South Dakota, to except the United States from compliance with article 10 of the league covenant which provides for preservation of political independence and territorial integrity of all members of the league. This has been the storm center of the opposition.

Today's developments were regarded as the opening of the great fight to amend the treaty as approved by President Wilson in Paris, a course which if successful Republican leaders admit may result finally in the United States making a separate treaty with Germany.

PORTLAND GETS SHRINE CONVENTION NEXT YEAR

Leo Youngsworth, Los Angeles, is Chosen as Imperial Outer Guard.

By United Press

Indianapolis, June 12.—Al Kader Temple of Portland, Ore., today won its battle to entertain the 1920 session of the Imperial council, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of The Mystic Shrine.

By a vote of 325 to 122 these Shrines took the convention from the New Orleans temple following a fight which started before the convention here opened last Monday.

All visiting Shrines were asked to vote but only a small percentage cast their ballots. The imperial representatives went into session immediately following this and elected Leo Youngsworth, Los Angeles, as imperial outer guard.

RAIN STORM WEDNESDAY DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

Heavy Wind Blows Large Limbs From Trees—Rain Was Needed.

The rain storm which visited this city Wednesday afternoon did but little damage. Some large limbs were blown from trees about the city by the heavy wind which accompanied the rain but the damage is estimated to be very small. The awning in front of the Carlson Hardware store on West Second street was blown down. A number of trees were damaged.

According to reports from surrounding communities only Seymour and the immediate vicinity was visited by the rain. However, persons arriving here from the south on a Pennsylvania train while the storm was raging reported that they were having heavy rains south of this place.

The rain was badly needed and many gardens about the city and country will benefit as a result. The rain storm came up suddenly and many people who were shopping in the downtown district were forced to take shelter in the stores for about thirty-five minutes until the clouds cleared away.

Eugene Smith will leave tonight over the Pennsylvania railroad for Pelican, Wis., where he has accepted a position for the summer.

Mrs. Phillip Becker of Indianapolis, is the guest of relatives in this city.

REPLY MAY AGAIN DELAY SIGNATURE

League of Nations and Occupation Sections of Treaty Now Under Consideration.

SILESIA'S FUTURE DISCUSSED

America's Title to Interned German Ships Appeared to be Somewhat Endangered.

(By Fred S. Ferguson, United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, June 12.—The big four and allied experts were expected to complete the league of nations and armies of occupation sections of the reply to the German counter proposals today. There seemed to be but slight possibility of the reply being finished on scheduled time tomorrow.

At yesterday's session, the big four decided that the future of Silesia should be determined by plebiscites and that the coal output of that region should be divided between the Poles and Germans.

The big four also heard the report of the council foreign ministers regarding the country. The council will designate a line beyond which the Hungarian soviet troops would be forbidden to go. In case Foreign Minister Bela Kun agreed to observe this line of demarcation, the council suggested that he be invited to send representatives to the peace conference with two weeks. The recommendation, it was reported, did not meet with the full approval of the big four.

The Turkish peace delegates, who arrived at Tour yesterday aboard a French warship, were enroute today to Vauvresson, between Versailles and St. Cloud.

America's title to interned German ships appeared today to be somewhat endangered. Complications in the shipping question, which appeared easily solvable six weeks ago are tying up the final award to America.

These disputes involve France, Italy, Japan and Brazil. Italy apparently is providing the chief obstacle, though without furnishing any reason. Signatures of the British and French were obtained several weeks ago for an agreement for the ships seized in her ports. The Italians also were reported to sign but when it came to affixing her signature she was held off on some pre-

MILITARY COURT MARTIAL PROCEDURE IS CRITICIZED

Matter is Taken up by Committee of The American Bar Association.

By United Press

Chicago, June 12.—Privates who have experienced military court martial were to tell their side of the story here today before the special committee of the American Bar Association, investigating justice as administered in the army.

That the case is "talked about among the officers and decision practically made before the evidence is heard," was the declaration yesterday of Richard H. Colby, Chicago lawyer, formerly with the 35th artillery.

Colby said the counsel for the defense was selected the night before, more as a formality than as a duty. He declared in many instances, the defendant's attorney was afraid properly to represent him.

THE ART EXHIBIT.

The art exhibit at the Shields high school building is worthy of more than passing attention. It is unusual in that all the pictures exhibited are owned by Seymour people. Very few cities of this size can boast of such a splendid collection, and the idea of the Seymour Art League in showing the progress that has been made here is this respect by displaying only locally owned pictures is commendable. The result is surprising even to those who have followed the work of the league most closely and are most interested in the subject. The exhibit is open to the public without cost. Everyone will be amply repaid by visiting the exhibit.

A full appreciation of a real work of art is a matter of education. There is something restful in a critical study of a picture, in the setting, in the blending of the colors and tints and in the interpretation of the artist's purpose in painting it. A picture, if it is a real work of art, carries a silent story. In it may be found incidents of the artist's life, the idea may have been suggested by his own home or it may portray the artist's attitude towards life in the same manner that an author's ideas are found in sentences.

The exhibit at the high school covers a wide range of subjects. The pictures are the work of some artists who are known here and in whom Seymour people have a particular interest. Everyone who visits the exhibit will not appreciate it in the same degree, but no one will be disappointed that they have taken the time to see it.

The chautauqua association is receiving reports which indicate that the assembly this year will be a greater success than any of the previous programs. The program is an excellent one. It is varied and will be of interest to every one. In no other way could as splendid an array of talent be brought here at so small a cost to the individual. The chautauqua is a community enterprise and the support it receives from the public must determine whether or not it is to be a success or failure.

Mrs. Alice Judd of Flemings, was here Wednesday afternoon shopping.

Sunday morning his daughter, Mrs. Anna Scherer, who lives at the farm home, called her father to come over to see about some of the stock, when he and his wife got there his friends were coming also. All his children and grandchildren were present except two grandchildren, Mr. Harley Goss, who is in France, and Mr. Willie Ellis who lives at Seymour, being the two absent. A Working Girl's Life.

Day in and day out, month after month, she toils. Often she is the breadwinner of the family and must work that others may live. Rain or shine, warm or cold she must be at her place of employment on time. A great majority of such girls are on their feet from morning until night, and symptoms of female troubles are early manifested by weak and aching backs, dragging-down pains, headaches and nervousness. Such girls are asked to try that most successful of all remedies for woman's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been giving girls strength to do their work.

Some extensive improvements are being made at the First National Bank and a second teller will be added to take care of the largely increased business the banking institution is enjoying. The private office in the president's apartment will be removed and his desk will occupy that space. A part of the space now occupied by the president will be equipped for the cashier who in the past has had a desk in the front of the building. The apartment now occupied by the cashier will be used by the teller and the second teller will take the apartment now occupied by the latter.

EASY TO CAPTURE PERFUME

Simple Method by Which Lovers of Sweet Odors May Gratify Their Olfactory Sense.

Few people know how easy it is to capture the fragrance of real flowers. The first step in the plan is to procure a glass funnel. The small end of this instead of opening should be drawn out to a fine point. Some means must be adopted to maintain the funnel in an upright position. A little stand made of wooden uprights and wire is shown in the illustration. Any kinds of highly scented flowers, such as roses, may be gathered; these should be in fresh condition as, just after opening, the fragrance is at its best. Place these in a vase filled with water so that they will not wither. Now get some ice and crush this into small fragments using it to fill up the glass funnel. At the same time place some receptacle under the funnel. Sprinkle salt on the ice and then move the flowers and the funnel into close proximity.

After a while it will be seen that the moisture from the atmosphere is condensed on the outside of the funnel, the surface of which is chilled by the ice. The ethereal odor of the flowers combines with this liquid which slowly trickles down by drops into the receptacle. When a sufficient quantity is secured this may be mixed with about an equal quantity of pure alcohol. The mixture should then be placed in bottles, when it will keep for an indefinite time. In this way all kinds of flower perfume may be captured with the greatest ease.

VOILE D'AMOUR HEARD AGAIN

Musical Instrument of the Past Has Found Favor With Prominent American Composers.

The viole d'amour is a musical instrument which had become practically obsolete until Charles Martin Loeffler, the American composer, wrote a part for it in his dramatic poem, "La Morte de Tintagiles." The instrument had not been recognized since Bach placed it in his orchestration of "St. John's Passion" and Meyerbeer employed it to accompany an air in the first act of "Les Huguenots." The unique feature of the viole d'amour is its system of sympathetic strings. Beneath its seven strings which are sounded with a bow, are stretched seven steel strings supposed to vibrate with the bowed ones and enhance the power of the sound. The strings are tuned strictly in the key of D major, the lowest string being the D, one tone below the Violin E string. Berlioz speaks of the instrument's "sweet, seraphic tone." It is said to be remarkably adapted to playing chords, arpeggios and harmonies.

Full Explanation.

Private Hodges sat in his hut trying to clean his rifle. Suddenly he heard his name called.

"Here!" he shouted, running out. "Wanted in the orderly room," said the sergeant; and Hodges followed him with bulging eyes and a sad heart. But he cheered up when the adjutant addressed him thus:

"I have a letter from your father. He is anxious to purchase your discharge, as he needs you to help him in his business," remarked the adjutant looking at him keenly. "Now, Private Hodges, what is your father's walk in life?"

Hodges eyes bulged more than ever. "P-please, sir," he blurted, "he's b-b-bandy!"

GLOVE FOR THE BLIND-DEAF

Ingenuous Contrivance by Means of Which the Afflicted Are Able to Hold Conversations.

Dr. William Terry of Ansonia, Conn., who was rapidly becoming both blind and deaf, invented an ingenious glove by means of which he was able to converse with his friends. The Scientific American describes this as thin, with all the letters of the English alphabet marked upon it, distributed over the digits, palm and back. Doctor Terry himself has learned the precise situation of each letter, so that when a friend spells out a word by touching the several spots, he can follow by the feeling.

The beauty of Doctor Terry's invention is that it enables him to receive communications from persons who are unacquainted with his system. Any deaf-blind person could have such a glove made and, of course, it does not matter how the letters are arranged upon it, for he alone needs to know without looking where they are situated. Doctor Terry's arrangement is as simple as could be devised.

DEAN OF PAINLESS SURGERY

Joseph Lister Lives in History as One of the Greatest Benefactors of Mankind.

One of the world's greatest benefactors was Joseph Lister, the eminent English surgeon who was the first to apply the antiseptic system of surgery, of which he was the discoverer and pioneer. Lister died seven years ago. The first great advance in modern surgery was made during the second quarter of the nineteenth century, when Godwin, Mitchell, Jackson, Wood-Bache and Doctor Morton discovered and applied anesthesia, which did away with the pain and horrors of the operating room. Since then vast improvements have been made in anesthesia. It remained for Lister to introduce antiseptic surgery or treatment to kill germs in surgical operations and accidental wounds, by which the lives of thousands have been saved. In addition to this important discovery, he made important observations on the early stages of inflammation, the coagulation of the blood and other matters. Lord Lister (he was elevated to the peerage) was surgeon extraordinary to Queen Victoria and later to King Edward.

Red Cross Work to Continue.

The ambulances of the British Red Cross are to be among the war-workers that will never be demobilized. The pick of that great park of ambulances, familiar to every soldier who has landed at or left Boulogne, will form the nucleus of a permanent service, in which all England will share. A commissioner is now at work finding homes for 500 of these ambulances, and is so mapping out the country that, if possible, no place shall be more than 15 miles from an ambulance, which shall be at the service of any doctor who has a serious case to move to hospital. All these ambulances will be under a central control, which will guarantee the efficiency of the car and the service; and the organization will have the active assistance of those who have learned all there is to learn about the running of ambulances during the war. The rest of the ambulances being over-much war-worn, or not specially well suited, will be added to the enormous total of cars and motorcycles now being sold or scrapped.

First Thrift Day.

The first "Thrift day" in America was August 11, 1915. That was the first time one special day was ever officially set aside for the purpose of encouraging attention to thrift. The day was celebrated in California as "Thrift day" in response to a proclamation of Governor Johnson. The occasion marked the opening of the thrift congress, held at the Panama-Pacific exposition by the American Society for Thrift.—Thrift Magazine.

(Pellens' Old Stand.)FINE PROGRAM FOR LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA

days. The entertainers and lecturers are engaged for the entire summer by the bureau and travel from city to city where the contracts have been made. The course this week is being presented at Fayetteville, Tenn., and the reports reaching here declare that the talent is far above the average.

Although the contract for the course was made with the Redpath company, there is a vast amount of work to be done by the local chautauqua committees. A large number of season tickets must be sold, the grounds must be arranged for the assembly, small tents erected and all local plans completed for the presentation of the program. The directors of the chautauqua association are already busy with the plans and are leaving nothing undone that will interfere with a successful week.

Interest in the chautauqua indicates that the season ticket sale will be large. The chautauqua movement is more popular than ever before and the lyceum directors declare that a new record is being established for crowds everywhere.

Save the Ten Cents.

Beginning June 10, a minimum price of fifteen cents for cash, and an additional ten cents when charged, will be made on all classified or other short locals. If the local is ordered by telephone the money may be sent to the office the same day before it is charged on our books and the extra charge will not be made.

We find the cost of charging these small items, making out bills and collecting them often amounts to more than the local itself. The extra ten cents that will be charged will partly compensate the office for this extra work and expense. But you can save it by paying cash when the local is ordered.

Exception will be made in the case of business firms with whom we have regular monthly accounts.

France signed the agreement, contingent on being allowed to buy a number of German ships interned in Brazil. But Brazil asked all cash for the ships while France wanted to pay part cash and part in securities.

Japan is withholding her assent until arrangements are made for her to obtain a certain amount of tonnage from America which is expected to be easily arranged.

Great Britain meanwhile is standing on the agreement, despite the protest of British commercial interests.

Portugal is now presenting claims for a part of the German navy as reparation for her naval losses. The general understanding is that Portugal's losses were limited to a few mine-sweepers, but her claims include light cruisers, destroyers and various other craft.

NINE SENIORS WIN PLACES ON COVETED HONOR ROLL

Helen Dannettelle Has Record of Forty "A's" and Margaret Hall is Second With Twenty-seven.

Nine members of the Senior class won places on the coveted honor roll this year. The honor roll includes all members of the class who during the four years of their high school course failed in no study, made not more than two C's and had at least three-fourths of their grades A's.

A high standard of work is required of the pupils in the local high school and to win a place on the honor roll means that the student must be diligent and preserving. The nine whose names are found in the list are deserving of much credit and have received the congratulations of the other members of the class.

The honor roll follows:

Name	Credits	A's
Helen Dannettelle	41	40
Margaret Hall	34	27
Walter Huber	32	28
Thelma Alberring	32	27
Ruth Miller	33	25

FIRST CLASS TO COMPLETE SIX YEAR HIGH SCHOOL PLAN

System Instituted in Local Schools by Superintendent Mott is Proving Successful.

The 1919 graduating class is the first in the local schools to complete the six-year high school plan which was instituted here by Superintendent T. A. Mott. Before that plan was adopted the common school course closed at the eighth grade and the high school was conducted on a four year course. Superintendent Mott believed that the six year high school plan would remove the sharp break between the grades and the high school.

The objection to the old plan was that too many pupils quit school upon the completion of their grade work. Under the six-year plan this tendency is minimized and the pupils see the necessity of acquiring a high school course the same as a common school education. Many schools throughout Indiana have adopted the plan. The local school was one of the first in the state to institute the six year high school course.

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel sure about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It."

The Only Peel-It-Off Way Is "Gets-It."

It's anyhow, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or putting. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Seymour and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by C. E. Loertz, Wm. L. Federmann and Max-on Pharmacy.

CHAPTER XIX.

Laying the Trap.

Our first job was executed much more easily than I had anticipated. We caught Manuel sound asleep, and LeVere had slinky hands at his throat before the fellow could grasp a weapon. The narrowness of the stateroom prevented my taking much part in the affair, but the mulatto needed no help, as he dragged the cursing Spaniard from his bunk to the deck and throttled him savagely. Indeed he would have killed the fellow had I not interfered and twisted his hands loose, leaving Estevan barely conscious. A blanket ripped into strips served to bind him securely enough for the present, but I thought it best to lock the door, and keep the key in my own pocket. LeVere would have knifed him even as he lay there helpless, but for my threat and insistence. Once back in the cabin my eyes distinguished the frightened face of the steward peering forth at us from out the dark of the passage leading forward.

"Come here, Gunsauls," I said sternly. "Step lively, lad; there's nothing for you to fear. Senor Estada has been killed during the night, and we have just captured his murderer," I explained. "There is reason to believe this act was part of a conspiracy to seize the ship in connection with those fellows amidships. Does that passage lead to their quarters?"

"It did once, senor, but now there is a closed door of oak, studded with iron, not only locked, but barred on this side. There are but two keys—one for the captain and the other for him who commands the buccaneers."

I stood there a moment, considering this information. The only way the mutineers could reach the cabin then would be from the deck, descending through the companion. So long as they remained unaware of the capture of Manuel there was little danger of their taking such action.

"Very well, steward," I said. "You go on about your work as though nothing had happened. If any word of this affair gets to the crew, or to those fellows forward, I'll hold you responsible. You are not to leave this cabin without my permission, nor speak to anyone. LeVere."

The mulatto faced me respectfully enough, and I had a feeling he would obey orders, largely because he dare not rebel.

"They will be wondering why you are not on deck. It will be better for you to take charge of the watch at once, and keep the men busy. Relieve Watkins at the wheel and send the man down to me. He can choose the fellows who will stick better than you could, and then can circulate among them without arousing suspicion."

Watkins soon shuffled down the steps. He whipped off his cap and stood waiting.

I put my hand on his shoulder. "Tom," I said soberly, "we are in the same boat, and understand each other. The chance has come for both of us, if we play the cards right. Listen while I tell you the situation, and what I plan doing."

I told it briefly, wasting no words, yet relating every fact. He listened eagerly, but without interruption until the end.

"What do you make of it?" I asked. "About what you do, sir. I knew there was something of the kind going on—some of the men forward are in on it. You've got the ring-leader."

"Manuel, you mean. Who did he count on for help in the forecastle?" "Cochose, and a handful of others, niggers and Spaniards, mostly. They meant to pull the affair off either to-day or tonight. Your plan gives us a fair chance, sir. A dozen good men on deck might do the business."

"But are there a dozen aboard to be trusted?"

"Well, yes sir. I rather think there are. I'd say that in both watches there's maybe fourteen to be relied on."

"In my watch there's Jones, Harwood and Simms, either English or Welsh. They're all right. Then there's a nigger named Sam; Schmitt, a Dutchman, with his partner, whose name I don't know, and two Frenchies, Ravel and Pierre. That makes eight, nine counting myself. Then in the starboard watch I'd pick out Jim Carter and Joe Cole, two Swedes, Carlson and Ole Hallin, and another nigger. Then there are a couple of Finns who ought to be with us, but I can't talk their lingo. That would give us sixteen out of thirty, and it's quite likely some of the others would take a hand with us, if they thought it was safe. I haven't any use though, sir, for Francois LeVere. There ain't a worse scamp aboard."

"I know that," I admitted, "but he had to be used."

"And what is my part now?"

"This is my watch below, and it will be best for me to keep off the deck until all is prepared. You sound these men and get them together; wake up the ones in the starboard watch you feel sure are all right, and have them slip quietly on deck. Then we'll get these arms in the rack here, and be ready for business—the rest will be done in a hurry. I'll wait here for your report."

At the very best Watkins could scarcely perform the task assigned him in less than an hour. The success or failure of our effort depended entirely upon taking these fellows by complete surprise. If it came to an open fight our cause was hopeless, for that would mean fourteen or fifteen men unarmed, pitted against over a hundred thoroughly equipped and trained fighters. Only by confining them below, with hatches battened down, and a cannon trained upon them, would we be safe.

I sat where I could watch the stairs, and the entire forward part of the cabin. Gunsauls lowered the table, and began preparing the morning meal. Finally he announced breakfast.

"Suppose you rap on the lady's door yonder, and ask if she will join me. Say your message is from Senor Gates."

She came at once and seated herself opposite me, and we spoke of the weather while Gunsauls served. He was still hovering about, but my anxiety to have a word with her alone caused me to send him to attend Captain Sanchez. We waited until he disappeared within the after stateroom, bearing a tray; then her eyes suddenly lifted to mine, filled with questioning.

"Tell me what has happened?" She breathed eagerly. "I heard the noise of a struggle out here, and voices conversing. Why are you alone?"

I leaned over to speak in as low a tone as possible. And I told her the situation in detail and my plans.

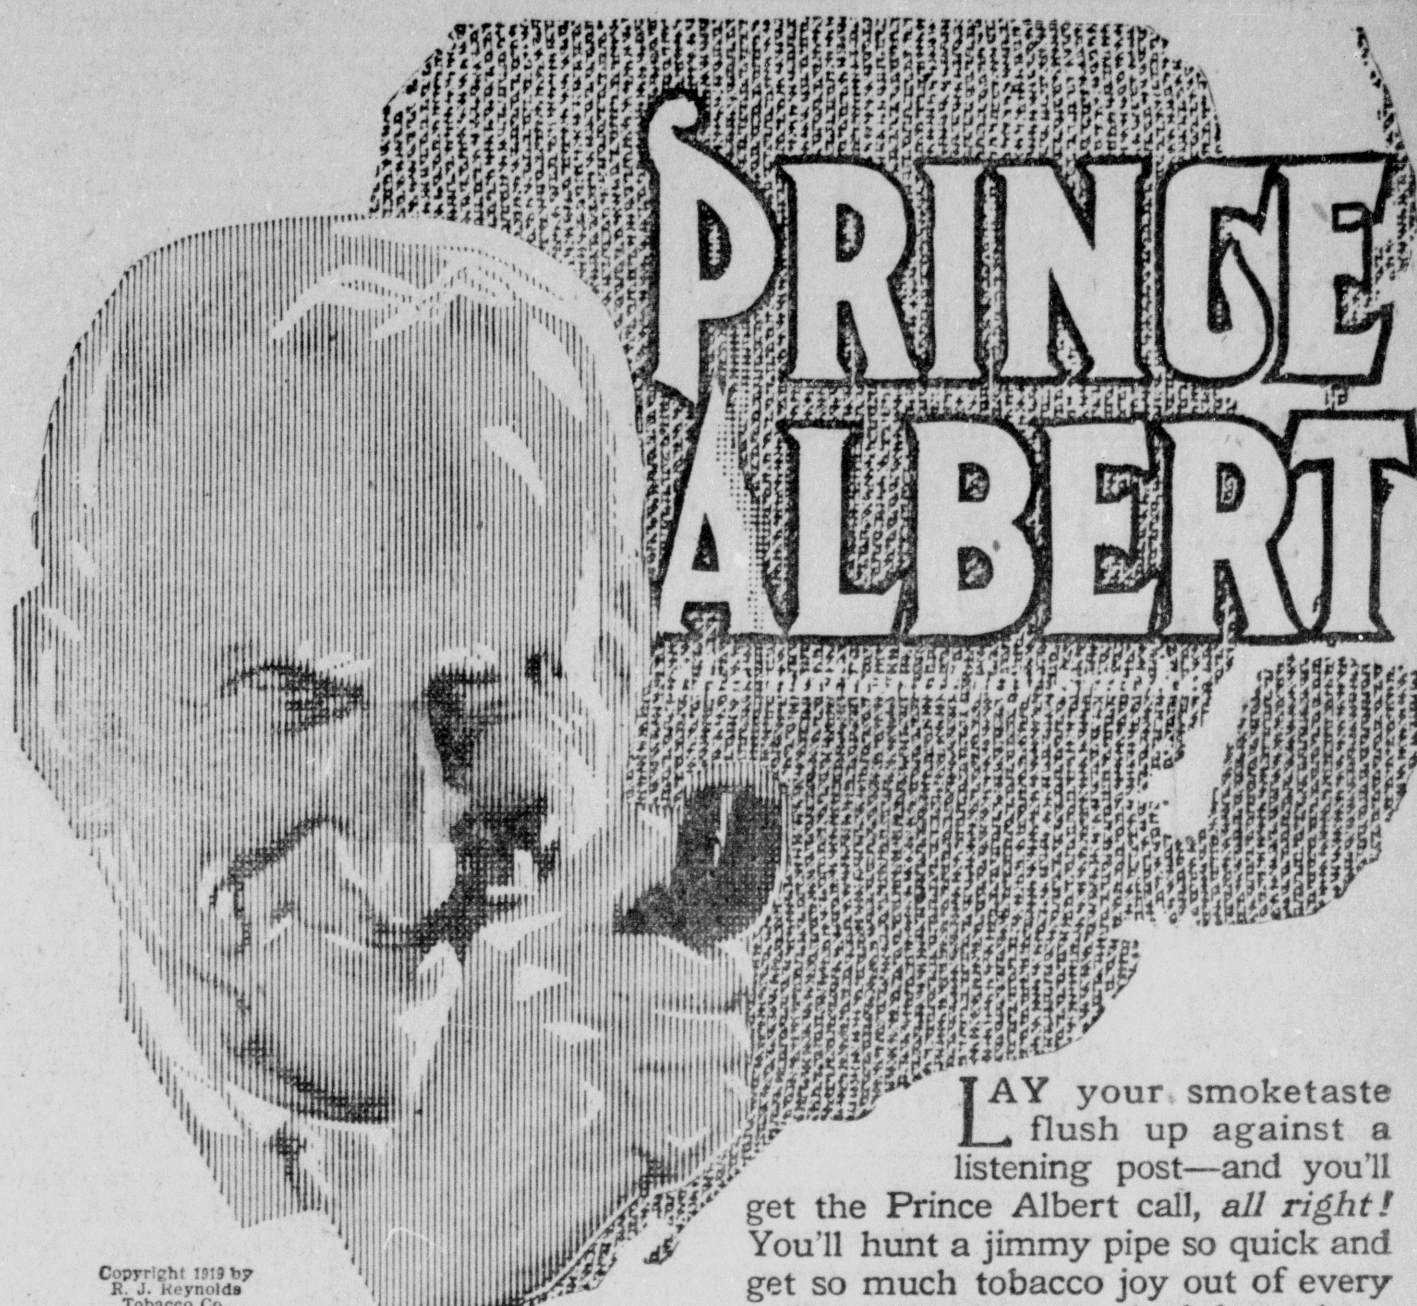

She sat silently gazing at me across the table, her parted lips trembling to an unasked question. Before she could frame this in words, the door to the companion opened, and Watkins descended the stairs. At sight of her he whipped off his cap.

"You may speak freely," I said. "This is the young lady I told you about, and of course she is with us. Only talk low."

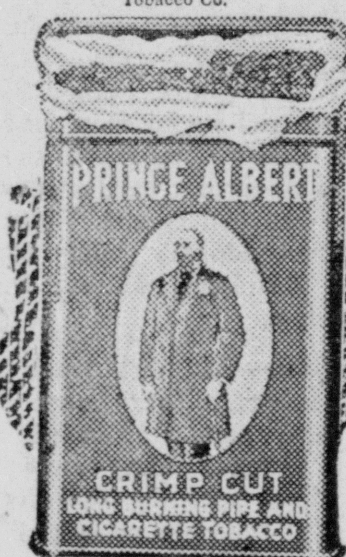

"Yes, sir," using a hoarse whisper, and fastening his gaze on me. "It's all right, sir."

ARKANSAS COMMISSION VISITS CRAWFORDSVILLE

Governor and Representatives of Leading Commercial Bodies in The Party.

By United Press

Crawfordsville, Ind., June 12—Montgomery county was to be visited today by the governor of Arkansas and representatives of fifty-four leading commercial organizations of that state. The party was to study agricultural methods and other phases of rural life under the auspices of Purdue university.

This county was chosen because of the remarkable showing made by its farmers in county agent work, and also because of the fact that it was the first county in the United States to put on a full paid force of Boys and Girls club leaders in the townships.

The visitors who are traveling in two pullmans, are also stopping at other points in Illinois, Michigan and Kentucky during the 10-day trip to view agricultural conditions.

Several herds of hogs numbering over 1,000 each will be inspected. The consolidated rural school idea which originated in Indiana will be demonstrated.

G. I. Christie, head of the extension department of Purdue University, is accompanying the Arkansans. Others from Purdue included: T. A. Coleman, state county agent leader; Tom R. Johnston, assistant county agent leader; George Friar, head of the Farmers Short Course department, and Z. M. Smith, state leader of boys and girls' clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kauffman of Princeton, Mo., who have been the guests of Mrs. Wm. Weichman and other relatives in this city, returned to their home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. John Gray returned to her home in North Vernon Wednesday afternoon after visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Mills.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anaemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.
